

Here you can find out all about us.

We are an NHS Trust which provides mental health services and a number of learning disability, autism and social care services in Lincolnshire.

Our people are really important to us. We have an amazing team of around 2,800 staff who work across the county.

We provide specialist community services, as well as mental health hospital care across the county.

Our vision is to support people to live well in their communities and we want to put service users at the heart of everything we do.
